Introduction

I never intended to create a hybrid Tarot/Oracle deck. The journey began not with a grand plan, but with a single card: The Hierophant. Drawn instinctively, it became the first attempt at a deeper exploration of the Major Arcana. As someone whose lifepath number is five, this card held personal resonance—it was both a mirror and a guide, marking the beginning of a creative and spiritual unfolding.

As an artist, I've always found that drawing is a key to exploration. By illustrating each card, I wasn't just interpreting symbolism—I was entering into dialogue with it. The Tarot, with its archetypes and mysteries, offered a language that I could translate through line, colour, and character. But it wasn't just the imagery that spoke to me—it was the spaces in between. The quiet tension, the ambiguity, the breath between light and shadow. That's where the magic lives!

Every card in this deck holds the potential for both light and dark. And somewhere in that spectrum—between cosmic whimsy and grounded wisdom—is the fullness of life itself. I drew inspiration from the Rider-Waite tradition, but I also explored many other interpretations, letting each one shape my understanding in its own way.

Once the Major Arcana was complete, I didn't stop! The process had become a kind of meditation, and I found myself drawn toward Astrology, eager to explore its symbols with the same intuitive method.

The Space Cat Oracle is, in many ways, a map of my own spiritual journey. It's playful, mysterious, and deeply personal. I hope it invites you to explore your own inner universe—with curiosity, compassion, and maybe a little mischief!

Meet Moo

At the heart of The Space Cat Oracle is Moo—our amazing cat in the physical, who passed into spirit a few years ago. Though no longer here in body, Moo remains very much present in energy. Long story short, he's now part of my guide team, and working with his energy has always been magical and playful.

I've always loved drawing Moo. He had a brilliant sense of humour when he was here with us, and that same mischievous charm continues to shine through in these artworks. Across this deck, you'll see Moo embodying a wide spectrum of archetypes and energies. Sometimes he appears as the Fool, leaping into the unknown. Other times, he's the Hermit, the Empress, the enlightened being—or even the shadow.

He shifts between masculine and feminine, light and dark, reminding us that the whole “self” is made up of many different aspects.

Moo continues to mentor me through our connection, guiding the creative process with his playfulness. His presence is woven into every illustration, and this deck wouldn't exist without him.

Thanks Moo!

How to use these Cards

Before jumping in, I want to share that the artwork and descriptions in this deck have come through my own personal lens. They reflect my journey, my interpretations, and my connection to the energies that inspired them. The spiritual path is a sacred and individual experience, and what resonates with me may not resonate with you—and that's okay. These cards are here to support your personal truth, not define it.

As you begin working with The Space Cat Oracle, I encourage you to use your own discernment. Let your intuition guide you and allow space for your own insights to emerge.

The most important 'hint' I can offer is this: the clarity of your answers depends on the clarity of your questions. Take your time to form your intention. Sit with it. Feel into it. The more precise and focused your inquiry, the more meaningful your reading will be.

There are countless resources online for spreads and Tarot techniques, and I wholeheartedly recommend exploring them.

Experiment. Play. Find what works for you. There's no single "correct" way to use these cards—only the way that feels aligned with your own energy.

As your connection with the deck deepens, it can become a powerful key to unlock your inner knowing. But like any intuitive skill, it benefits from regular practice.

If you're new to this, try pulling a card daily. Keep it light—ask a simple question about your day or your mood. Over time, you'll begin to notice patterns, synchronicities, and subtle shifts in your awareness.

Let these practices weave into your life. Use the cards to reflect on your dreams, your relationships, your creative process—whatever feels meaningful. And remember: don't rush to interpret a card or spread. If something feels unclear, ask again. Sit with it. Let the imagery speak to you.

Every card holds the potential for light and dark. Look deeply at the artwork. Feel into the shapes, the colours, the expressions.

Remember, Moo's furry presence is there, guiding you through the cosmic dance of insight and mystery!

Major Arcana

The first set of artworks in this oracle feature the Fool's journey through the Major Arcana. These are my own interpretations of imagery taken from many different sources—including the Rider-Waite Tarot. I've tweaked some of the archetypes to tie in with my own personal beliefs and understanding, but I recommend taking your time to get to know the cards to find out how they speak to you personally.

Once you become more familiar, you'll soon expand upon my definitions. In the meantime, this should help you get started!

0: The Fool

Keywords: New beginnings, spontaneity, innocence, leap of faith

The Fool is a card of infinite potential. It is the first step of the greatest adventure. With faith and trust, The Fool invites us to take a bold leap into the unknown.

1: The Magician

Keywords: Manifestation, skill, resourcefulness, willpower

You have all the tools and abilities you need to succeed. It may take some patience, but there is a power inside you that can transform the world and manifest your dreams.

2: The High Priestess

Keywords: Intuition, mystery, inner wisdom, hidden knowledge

The High Priestess represents the hidden mysteries that lie beyond your conscious awareness. It's the deepest magic that exists within the realms of dreams and shadow. Are you listening to the guidance that comes from the voice of your soul?

3: The Empress

Keywords: Abundance, creativity, fertility, mother figure

The Empress invites us to connect to the divine feminine. Benevolent, nurturing, creative, but very strong, The Empress exists in perfect harmony with the natural world. This is an extremely positive card and indicates abundance and success.

4: The Emperor

Keywords: Authority, structure, stability, father figure

The Emperor represents the divine masculine. When out of balance, it can be restricting or controlling, but when balance is restored, it creates a sacred container of protection, stability, leadership. Who or what does this card represent in your current situation?

5: The Hierophant

Keywords: Tradition, spiritual guidance, conformity, learning

The Hierophant represents the traditions and institutions that exist in our daily lives. Shaping the foundations of our beliefs and identities, they can be a blessing or a curse. It may be time to ask yourself, are those ideas still serving you?

6: The Lovers

Keywords: Union, choices, harmony, relationships

The Lovers can represent harmony with yourself or the people around you. It can also represent a choice that needs to be made. If it's time to make changes in your life, ask for more clarity. Try to understand all the different perspectives involved with the decision.

7: The Chariot

Keywords: Determination, control, victory, momentum

The Chariot is all about momentum. Seize the day and make something happen! Get ready to pack your bags, this card can also mean it's time to go travelling!

8: Strength

Keywords: Courage, compassion, inner power, patience

Once we have wildly charged into the unknown, this is usually the moment when all our doubts and fears jump up to say, “hello”. Thankfully, the Strength card is here to remind us that we have everything we need to overcome these inner challenges.

9: The Hermit

Keywords: Reflection, solitude, wisdom, introspection

The Hermit can indicate a period of deep self-reflection. A chance to consolidate all you have learned so far. Take time for self-care. Look after yourself—before you start trying to help everyone else!

10: Wheel of Fortune

Keywords: Cycles, fate, turning point

The Wheel of Fortune can indicate a change of luck or that something big is about to happen in your life. Any changes will always be for your highest good, but they may not always be easy!

11: Justice

Keywords: Truth, fairness, accountability, consequences

The Justice card represents cosmic balance. Sometimes, that may mean facing the consequences of your actions. However, if life has been unkind to you, your fortunes may be due for a very positive change!

12: The Hanged Man

Keywords: Surrender, perspective, pause, sacrifice

You may be trapped in an uncomfortable situation, and it may feel like everything is out of your control. Take a moment to pause. Is there another perspective here? What's stopping you from moving forwards?

13: Transition

Keywords: Transformation, renewal, letting go

This artwork slightly deviates from the Rider-Waite tradition, but it reflects my own personal beliefs around death. Death is a doorway. A shift into another level of consciousness. This card may also represent that a big change is on the horizon.

14: Temperance

Keywords: Balance, healing, moderation, integration

Temperance represents a calm inner balance. The ability to understand multiple perspectives and remain focused on your own goals and aspirations. It's the knowledge that everything is in its right place.

15: The Devil

Keywords: Shadow, temptation, bondage, materialism

The Devil represents the inner battle between us and our shadow self. It's the uncomfortable truth. It is also the beliefs and mental patterns that stop us from pursuing our dreams. In my personal experience, the moment we realise that the chains are an illusion, all these things lose their power over us.

16: The Tower

Keywords: Upheaval, revelation, chaos, breakthrough

Often the most feared card of the Tarot, the Tower can represent absolute chaos and destruction. However, from the ashes, the phoenix rises, and when you step into your destiny and conquer the Tower, the world is yours!

17: The Star

Keywords: Inspiration, serenity, spiritual clarity

The Star represents a positive omen. All the hardships and trials you have endured have led you to this precise moment. Finally, you can see the light at the end of the tunnel. The future looks bright!

18: The Moon

Keywords: Illusion, intuition, dreams, uncertainty

The answer you seek may be cast in shadow. There may be something outside your awareness that is stopping you from seeing with clarity. Ask yourself: what would it take to see this situation clearly? — and then see what answer comes into your mind.

19: The Sun

Keywords: Joy, vitality, success, enlightenment

The Sun represents good luck and personal growth. This is a huge positive energy for change. All your wishes are coming true. It's time to party!

20: Judgement

Keywords: Awakening, rebirth, reckoning, inner calling

Have you judged yourself too harshly? It may be time to take all the lessons you have learnt and reflect on them. Where are you in your life at this moment? Are you in alignment? You may have made more progress than you realise...

21: The World

Keywords: Completion, wholeness, achievement, cosmic unity

You did it! You reached the end of a very long journey. It's time to celebrate yourself. Suddenly, life is full of joy and expansion. The universe has your back!

Elements

As I worked through the Major Arcana, I began to notice one of many themes. Each card seemed to correspond to a particular element. In what seemed a natural progression, I decided to explore this with the following artwork!

22: Fire

Keywords: Power, energy, creativity, Ace of Wands

The Fire card represents the initial spark of inspiration. With a creative force building inside you, it's time to pull your finger out and get started!

23: Earth

Keywords: Grounding, stability, Ace of Pentacles

The Earth card invites us to step back into our physical bodies. It's time to tune back into nature, reconnect, and experience the world around us.

24: Water

Keywords: Flow, adaptability, Ace of Cups

The Water card invites us to get in touch with our emotions. What can you feel? Anger, hatred, sadness, grief? There might be an emotion that's holding you back. Is it time to let it go?

25: Air

Keywords: Movement, freedom, Ace of Swords

With a sense of mental clarity, we can soar high above the clouds. There is a great sense of freedom with this card. It reminds us that, when we're no longer stuck in our own limited beliefs, anything is possible.

26: The Universe

Keywords: Spirit world, guidance

We spend our lives seeking connection, but the truth is that it's always there. We are an essential part of all that is. Separation is an illusion. (Read that again).

Geometry

You may notice something missing in the next four images — they are completely Mooless!

However, they certainly continue the exploration of the insights that were coming into my awareness at the time of producing these artworks.

27: Grounding

Keywords: Foundations, integration, stability

This card invites you to return to yourself, to feel your feet on the ground, your presence in this moment. From a place of grounding, clarity and strength can grow.

28: Pyramid

Keywords: Creation, alchemy, ancient wisdom

You are not separate from the great tapestry of the collective consciousness. Whether through meditation, ritual, or quiet reflection, allow yourself to open up to the wisdom you need to move forwards.

29: The Wave

Keywords: Transformation

The Wave has a cleansing energy. A chance to reconstruct identity. An invitation to let go of any outdated beliefs or mental patterns, that may not even be yours.

30: Portal

Keywords: Illusions, subconscious, dreams

Where are you getting lost in the maze of your own mind? Is your life taking you round in circles? Are there any patterns you keep repeating? How can you step away and see things from an observer's perspective? It's time to back out of the loop!

Astrological

As with the Tarot, I felt compelled to explore Astrology through art. By this point, I had recognised how these drawings had become a meditation for me. The process was deeply healing.

At the same time, I was learning lots of new and exciting things! To be honest, when I started on this series, I knew almost nothing about Astrology and had just started learning how to read my natal chart.

I can now confirm that there is a wealth of knowledge and wisdom to be found through the study of Astrology!

31: Aries

Keywords: Courage, passion, impulsiveness

Aries is bold, impulsive, and full of energy. Aries is quick to act, sometimes too quickly! It's time to take action—but remember to look before you leap!

32: Taurus

Keywords: Stability, patience, loyalty

Grounded and very loyal, Taurus loves being comfortable. But sometimes comfort doesn't get you where you want to be. A slow and steady energy is good to maintain growth, but consider if you are stuck or merely consolidating.

33: Gemini

Keywords: Curiosity, communication, duality

Witty, versatile, and mentally agile. Gemini dances between dualities. There may be two sides of something, or someone, to consider here. This card may also indicate that there's a choice to be made between two paths, or people.

34: Cancer

Keywords: Nurturing, intuition, emotion, memory

Protective, emotional, and deeply rooted in nostalgia, this card can represent connection with family and emotions. What does home mean to you? What kind of home are you creating for yourself and the other people in your life. What makes you feel most safe and secure?

35: Leo

Keywords: Creativity, confidence, charisma

Charismatic, proud, and confident, Leo shines with creative fire and loves to be centre stage. Is it time to step out of the shadow and be seen in all your magnificence?

36: Virgo

Keywords: Precision, service, analysis, practicality

Precise, thoughtful, and service-oriented, Virgo finds magic in the details. What do you need to look closer at? Is there something you are missing? Or are you holding yourself back by being too narrow-minded?

37: Libra

Keywords: Harmony, equilibrium, justice

A seeker of justice, Libra balances beauty and truth. This card may indicate the need to find mental clarity or resolve a dispute. Where do you need more harmony in your life. Are you taking a balanced view of the situation?

38: Scorpio

Keywords: Depth, transformation, mystery

Dark and mysterious, Scorpio guards the hidden chambers of the soul. This is your opportunity to dive deeper. Is there something hidden that you need to uncover? And is it really hidden, or are you just avoiding the answer because you fear what transformation may bring?

39: Sagittarius

Keywords: Exploration, optimism, wisdom, freedom

Sagittarius is the cosmic explorer. Philosophical, adventurous, and freedom-loving, Sagittarius can represent travel and forward momentum. This is your opportunity to ‘seize the day’ and move forwards with confidence and curiosity.

40: Capricorn

Keywords: Discipline, ambition, resilience

Persistent, goal-oriented, and wise, Capricorn will conquer the mountain—no matter what it takes. This card may indicate that you are making slow but steady progress. Don’t underestimate the power of grit and determination. You have everything you need. Keep going!

41: Aquarius

Keywords: Innovation, independence, eccentricity

Innovative, quirky, and future-focused, Aquarius thinks beyond the now. Aquarius may indicate the answer to your inquiry may come through unconventional wisdom and insight. Where can you think outside the box? Take another look at your situation as though you were someone else. What do they see?

42: Pisces

Keywords: Imagination, spirituality, dreams

Empathic, visionary, and spiritually attuned, Pisces dissolves boundaries. Pisces can also represent enlightenment and completion. You may be coming to the end of one cycle, but the circle is eternal and there are always new goals, and new possibilities to reach for. Keep exploring!

Oracle

The artworks in the following series represent the moments of insight throughout my personal journey. The imagery often came to me while searching for my own answers. However, I believe they will resonate with anyone interacting with these cards.

Whether it's seeking our place in the world, following our joy, or aligning with our true self, these are the aspirations that give life meaning.

43: The Mountain

Keywords: Victory, celebration

The mountains are singing! You have made a breakthrough and it's time to celebrate. Even if it doesn't feel like it yet, you've come a lot further than you may realise. Take a moment to enjoy the view.

44: Connection

Keywords: spiritual alignment, life purpose, higher frequencies

Everyone is searching for meaning, but your soul already knows who you really are and why you are here. There is a divine hand guiding you through connection. Both connection with others and with the highest version of yourself.

45: Bridgeweaver

Keywords: Cohesion, multi-dimensionality

Bridgeweaver magic underpins the very foundations of the universe. It links up different possibilities, dimensions, and realities. You can be part of that by bringing people or energies together.

46: DNA

Keywords: Ancestral patterns, family

How much are you the product of your ancestors? Consider the similarities between you and your family members. Is everything you carry really yours, or have you automatically absorbed it into your truth? It's time to take a closer look at who you really are.

47: Manifestation

Keywords: Creativity, perspectives

There is an unending current of creative possibility that is yours to tap into should you so wish. You are the creator of your own reality and it can be as beautiful as you are prepared to allow it to be. Don't hold back!

48: Security

Keywords: Protection, limitation, boundaries

We all need safety and security, in our relationships and in our lives but don't let that hold you back from expressing your true self. Don't be afraid to set limits for others if that means becoming more of your authentic self. The more aligned you are, the better it is for others. Lead by example.

49: Amplify

Keywords: Expansion, growth, courage

This card indicates that there is the possibility for huge transformation if you have the courage to embrace it. Take a quantum leap and you will be surprised at the growth it creates for you. It's time to stop playing small and step into who you were always meant to be.

50: Playfulness

Keywords: Inspiration, forward momentum, new perspectives

Don't underestimate the power of play. Joy and laughter can break down barriers and dismantle the most persistent blocks. Being too heavy or serious all the time can stifle growth. Take a lighter approach.

51: Community

Keywords: Family, groups, relationships

I lovingly refer to this card as the "The Three of Moo". For me it's about having the best possible support around you, whether that's friends, business partners spirit guides, or anyone else. Take a look at those around you. Do they lift you up or bring you down? Life is too short to waste time on the wrong people.

52: Harmony

Keywords: enlightenment, wisdom, balance

What does it mean to be in harmony with yourself and with the world around you. With nature, but also with your thoughts and feelings. Do you treat yourself with love and care? We are all interconnected, so how you treat yourself has a ripple effect outwards to the world around you. You are a precious spark of the divine, so take care of yourself.

53: Alignment

Keywords: Wholeness, healing, finding answers

This is the moment it all makes sense. When everything goes silent and you feel a noticeable shift in your energy. This card may indicate a very fortunate and harmonious phase of your life. Take a deep breath in and ground yourself into this wonderful energy. Relax in the joy of alignment. The struggle is over. Rest and recharge before your next adventure.

About the Author

I've always been an introspective person—someone who spent much of childhood lost in thought, sketching out imaginary worlds and characters. From the moment I could hold a pencil, I've been both a storyteller and an artist. The pencil has remained my faithful companion, guiding me through the complexities of existence and the ever-unfolding experience of being human.

For me, creativity and spirituality are deeply intertwined — each one an exploration of the other. And at the heart of everything I create, there are stories.

To me, stories are a big part of humanity's pursuit of meaning. It is our way of making sense of a densely complex reality.

It's no coincidence that Tarot and Astrology are built upon stories — archetypal, symbolic, and timeless. They reflect the great cosmic dance of life and death, love and loss, light and shadow, and all the spaces in between. These stories are not just ancient — they're alive, evolving with each person who engages with them.

On a final note, if you are still reading this, thank you for being part of this wonderful universe.

May your light continue to shine brightly!

Mooniverse Books

When our cat Moo, died, we wanted to create a legacy for him that would embody what he meant to us. So Mooniverse Books was born.

Living with Moo gave us more joy than we could ever possibly have imagined. We want to spread that joy with others and help people to understand that although we are individuals, we are not separate. We are all interlinked, all part of the same consciousness and our mission is to encourage people to treat each other, the planet and its animals and plants, with love and respect.
